SRISAILAM

SRISAILAM is located 232 km south of Hyderabad, on the banks of the river Krishna. You can see the 512 meter-long Srisailam dam and visit the magnificent Bhramaramba Temple - one of the eighteen most sacred Shakti Pithas and the Mallikarjuna swamy temple - one of the 12 'Jyotilingas' of India.

AHOBILAM

AHOBILAM situated among the Nalla Mala Hills (Black Hill ranges) of the eastern Ghats in Andhra Pradesh's Kadapa district is the Narasimha Swamy Ksheteram (Abode of Lord Narasimha). Narasimha is one of the ten incarnations of Lord Vishnu, the preserver according to the Hindu mythology.

MAHANANDI

MAHANANDI is a village located east of the Nallamala Hills in Kurnool District, Andhra Pradesh, India. It is a picturesque village surrounded by thick forests. Within 15 km of Mahanandi, there are nine Nandi shrines known as Nava Nandis. Mahanandi is one of the Nava Nandis. The Mahanandiswara Swamy Temple, an important shrine, is located here. This ancient temple dates back over 1,500 years.

YAGANTI

YAGANTI, a place in Banaganapalli mandal of Kurnool district, is a home to Sri Umamaheshwara Swami Temple. This is the temple of Lord Siva along with His consort, Goddess Parvati.

ALAMPUR

ALAMPUR Jogulamba is the presiding deity, one of the 18 Shakti peethas of the Indian Sub-continent. Jogulamba Temple is built with red sand stone. The architecture here is breath-taking.
